This will enable me to make a better display and to handle my stock to a greater advantage and so better serve my growing trade. These goods will be in my way and I have no room in which to store them while enlarging my store, so I will sell them at cost for cash. They are strictly first-class and fresh goods. SEABREEZE AND DAYTONA BEACH

Seabreeze, June 3—The C. A. Ballough dredge, which was anchored north of the Peninsula Bridge, caught fire Friday, occasioning considerable alarm for a time. Mrs. Gilmore first discovered the fire and gave the alarm. Mr. Wood and Drew Middleton, who chanced to be on the bridge at the time, in company with Mr. Gilmore quickly launched a row boat and were on the dredge in the shortest possible time, and did such effective work that before help arrived the fire was out. The dredge engine had been fired up early in the morning in order to drop the dredge from Glenview dock to deeper water before it was caught by low tide. Some wood near the engine had taken fire and the prompt action of Messrs. Gilmore, Wood and Middleton probably avoided the destruction of the dredge.

Mayor E. L. Potter leaves today, unless otherwise detained by business, for Asheville where he will join his family in a short stay. The Mulky property, now occupied by A. T. Sims and family, has been much improved by an outside coat of paint and interior decoration. The cottage, which was recently purchased by Miss Kelley, again changed hands last week, the transfer being made to Mrs. Ollie Tuft, of Cincinnati. Deal was transacted by A. I. Miller.

J. B. Garrison, of Daytona, has purchased a lot on Grandview avenue north of Ocean boulevard, with a view to building.

Hugh Armstrong, of the Armstrong Tool Co., of Chicago, in a letter to A. I. Miller in regard to their recent purchase of five lots on the river front, says it is quite likely that four cottages will be erected on this property.

S. E. Gilmore has resigned his position on the Peninsula Bridge, and with his family are now comfortably established in his home on Valley street. Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore were very popular bridge tenders and general regret is expressed that any change should have been made in the management. Edward E. Keller, who has been assisting on the Central Bridge, is now in charge.

Mrs. E. Warden will spend the summer with her brother, C. E. Ballough, looking after his comfort in the absence of his family. Mrs. Warden's little granddaughter, Helen Holt, is with her.

The foundation work is being done on A. I. Miller's new cottage at the corner of Grandview and Jessamine boulevards. The house as planned will be a well designed, modern six-room cottage. S. N. Flemming will do the work.

The resignations of C. F. Burman, as president of the council, and D. D. Beckman, as councilman, were taken up at the regular meeting Monday evening and after consideration accepted. R. M. A sewerage ordinance passed on first reading, and ordinances on sidewalk laying and tree planting passed on second reading. Numerous bills were allowed.

Captain Coutant, of the Life Saving Station, was visiting his Seabreeze friends early Tuesday morning. He came up to Daytona to meet his wife, who was expected from Jacksonville.

Mrs. B. A. Haynes and Mrs. J. B. Garrison are enjoying the week at Blarney Castle by invitation, during the absence of Misses Apthorp and have had several house parties within the week. Last Thursday a party of twelve enjoyed a picnic supper and surf bathing, which program was so much enjoyed that it will be repeated tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Street cleaning is the order of the week and the sidewalks and parks are taking on a tidier appearance, thanks to the way Boyd Shoemaker, chairman of the street committee, is marshaling the street workers.
